"From the office of an able, energetic and earnest State superintendent a cult for a higher and better service sounded through the ranks. That call has been heard and answered. Only a few still remain assecp at their post, and these must soon awake to activity or be left behind with the stragglers and deserters, the country of the most state that have ever hindered the rogress of a successful campaign.

Council in Wordy War.

A wordy war between opposing attor-eys resulted from the district attorney a effort to introduce in evidence the child taken from Grace Brown's hedy at the time of the autopsy. District Attorney Ward succeeded in getting the exhibit admitted in evidence, althoush it was shown to no one except Dr. E. H. Douglas, who identified it.

An interesting point was reached when Attorney Charles D. Thomas, of the defense, estructed from Rev. Cutibert Prost, a Lowville dergyman, a contradiction of a statement made by him on the witness stand last week.
